

Bill Mosley, I'm a native Arizonan, born in the valley of the sun and raised in Okemah. I attended three different elementary schools, Mitchell, Ritter and Broadmor. Then it was on to McKemy Jr. High. I graduated from Tempe High School in 1965. I started at Mesa Community College but my education got delayed. It was off to the army for two years from 1968-70. I was deployed to Vietnam.

After that, I returned to Mesa Community College to complete my Associate of Arts degree in Fine Arts.

I continued my education at Arizona State University earning my Bachelors in Education and Fine Arts with majors also in speech, theater and sociology.

In 1974 I started substitute teaching in several school districts. A short time later, in 1975 I started working for KTVK-TV 3 as a news reporter with reporting responsibilities ranging from hard news to general and good news stories. During my 25 years at the station I was a sports and weather anchor.

This also evolved into being a motivational speaker at many schools and organizations around the state.

Acting has always been a part of my life and I've been fortunate not only to perform on stage but also in movies, tv series and commercials.

Currently I'm an enrollment representative for the University of Phoenix. For 12 years I've been helping students start their educational journey.

For me the community of Okemah was and still is a family. Keeping its history and memories alive is a meaningful endeavor!
